Financial Management Educational Series

Yakima- The Center for Business Development & Center for Latino Farmers are hosting a 20-hr educational series on managing business finances for new or beginning farmers, ranchers and businesses, and for established businesses that feel they may need a refresher.

Date: February 8, 9, 10, 11, 2016 (every evening)
Time: 5:00 pm– 9:00 pm
Place: Oxford Suites-Yakima

As we work with new and beginning businesses and new and beginning farmers, we find that the hardest issues they face is staying on top of their financial situation. While most are making money, many need to know on a weekly and monthly basis, their situation, and not wait until they talk to their accountant.

This series will consist of learning basis information such as understanding credit, how to read their balance sheet and profit and loss statements. They will learn how to set up a manual financial system and some of those who attend will be able to attend a QuickBooks training program. The cost is $100 per person, or $150.00 for a husband and wife. Refreshments will be served.

Preregistration is required and space is limited to no more than 20 persons. For more information, please call Maria Giedra or Nelson Bautista at 509- 453-3157.
