TX7e all hear that we are VV only six degrees away from knowing each other and with the recent Taylor Bridge fire in Ellensburg and Cle Elum that became very apparent to me. I love going on craigslist and searching for antiques. I had found an old print which I have always loved, so I sent the contact, Deb, an email to make an offer. I heard back from her and she accepted my offer. She said she comes to Yakima often and would deliver the print to me. Then nothingno emails or contact. I decided to email Deb to make sure the deal was still on. When I heard back from her she explained to me that she and her husband had to evacuate from their home, with less than an hour's notice. She was at her son's home, on the coast, waiting for word on their house. They knew many of their neighbors had lost everything and were afraid of what might be in store for them. Good newsI just heard from her yesterday and she was back in her home, although surrounded by scorched land. She told me how blessed they felt amongst all the neighbors who had lost everything!

I'm once again reminded of what a blessing it is to live in the Yakima Valley and that we can reach out and lift each other up by putting our hands together to pray, work, and support our neighbors. As we continue to reach out, let us remember: it's simply good business to help one another in all things. I am very proud of the community and citizens who put service above self such as the Downtown Rotary who matched funds with their members to be given to those who lost so much in the Taylor Bridge

Let's continue to show our humanity, hearts, and care to our neighbors and my new friends, Deb and Jack who are back in their home just over the hill in Kittitas County!

Blessed Wishes! Verlynn K. Best

Chris Brown Chair of the Board of Directors

Takima, buy into it! I know L what you're thinking, not again. Haven't we been down that road? Yes, we have all been down that road. But I think we all need to keep that road on our mind. There are many, many reasons to do that. Yakima, like any other city in Washington has been struggling to grow and to take care of its infrastructure. It is struggling to keep everyone employed.

What can we all do to help? We can keep our shopping in town. I know the internet is very convenient. It's more private, but Yakima gets very little sales tax revenue from those sales. How do we maintain our roads. When we drive to the Tri-Cities or Seattle and purchase items that are available in Yakima, that hurts us. All of us.

But it's much more than just supporting each other with our spending habits. We are members of the Greater Yakima Chamber of Commerce. We should all be cheerleaders for Yakima. I think the most negative voices about Yakima are those of us who live here. If we don't have pride in our city, who will? How can we expect our new city manager to buy into Yakima, if we haven't? What better time to focus our energies. We have new leadership in Yakima. What a great time to break out and change our image!

How else can you Buy into Yakima? You can buy into Yakima by supporting the arts and entertainment. It is terribly unfortunate that we are losing the Yakima Bears. We still have Legion baseball. We are still the home to the Capitol Theatre, the Yakima Symphony Orchestra, the Yakima Valley Museum and so many other wonderful and worthwhile organizations. When was the last time that you acted like a kid on the Greenway for fun? Or had a soda at the soda fountain at the museum? We need to support and enjoy the activities that Yakima has to offer more often than when your family comes in from out of town. Let's enjoy Yakima and ALL it has to

I expect all of you to get out your soapbox and start singing the praises of Yakima and the surrounding area. Do we have our issues? You bet. Let's get together and solve them. It will be a lot of work. But if you love Yakima as much as I do- and the staff at the chamber does- you will come along for the ride. Yakima- Buy into it!

Greetings Greater Yakima Chamber of Commerce! I want to start off and say thank you for doing what you do! This is a great organization, and I am proud to be a part of it!

I grew up in Selah, and despite running off to the west-side for a few years, the Yakima Valley has always managed to pull me back again. I've been fortunate enough to have traveled all over the country, but I will always call this Valley home. In my travels, I have served as a firefighter, professional snowboarder, photographer, and journalist. It is only in the last several years that I have truly begun to establish myself in our com-

I work as the Business Development Specialist for ServiceMaster of Yakima. We are the number one resource for any cleaning need, specializing in water and fire disaster restoration, as well as commercial and janitorial cleaning.

I've been happily married for two years, and have two awesome dogs. My wife and I spend our weekends enjoying winter sports, hiking with my dog, and generally running around this beautiful State of ours.

I am both honored and excited to be a part of the Greater Yakima Chamber of Commerce Ambassador Program. I see lots of possibilities for this committee, and I look forward to helping it reach its potential!

MILLARISCORMAN

LTC R. Darrell O'Steen Commander, Yakima Training Center

Hello to the Greater Yakima Valley Community. I'd like to put out a big thank you to all of the leaders and great citizens of the Yakima Valley who have welcomed my family into the community. As we continue to settle in, we look forward to the many opportunities the Great Pacific Northwest provides and the relationships that we will establish during this tour of service.

July and August has been a very busy time meeting key community leaders and learning about the Yakima Training Center. As with all changes of leadership, everything continues to operate as normal and the great leaders across the Installation Staff have done a tremendous job to orient me to the 327,000 acre installation and began the difficult task of teaching me myriad of training, environmental, cultural, and administrative actions it takes to manage the installation.

Currently, YTC has the distinct pleasure in hosting the Japanese Ground Security and Defense Forces (JGSDF) Strategic Partnership Exercise, Rising Thunder, in which over 450 members of the JGSDF are deployed across the training center conducting various training exercises. This strategic partnership exercise provides the JGSDF an opportunity for tough, combat focused, and realistic training in an environment their home station training areas cannot provide. Additionally, over 300 of these members will participate in the Yakima Training Center and Selah Army Base Run on September 15th. We always look forward to this training event each year as it an opportunity for the community to get involved as well with the Japanese Home Visits, a program where the community can volunteer to host up to three Japanese Soldiers in their homes to share and learn about each other's cultures. While this year's volunteer families have already been selected, if anyone is interested in volunteering for next year's Home Visit Program, please contact Mrs. Judy Jacobson, the YTC Morale, Health, and Welfare Coordinator at 509-577-3337.

Finally, I look forward to future opportunities to continue the strong partnership between the community and Yakima Training Center. I am honored to be part of this great community, the Yakima Valley Team, and the Yakima Training Center.

Cottage in the Meadow Celebration - Phase One of Construction Completed

After nearly 10 years of planning and millions of community dollars raised, Cottage in the Meadow -- Central Washington's new home for hospice care -- reaches a milestone in its evolution: celebrating the completion of phase one construction and the opening of its doors to the Yakima Valley and surrounding communities. A ribbon cutting ceremony was held on Saturday, July 14th. A community open house followed, giving residents their first opportunity to tour this new facility.

Cottage in the Meadow enhances the full spectrum of hospice care available to residents of Yakima and Kittitas counties. The 20,000 square foot in-patient facility will provide 24-hour medical and respite care for patients and families not able to receive hospice care in their homes. The facility will begin serving patients in late July/early August.

Memorial Hospice has provided services to the community since the mid-1990's. Over the years, the numbers of clients served has steadily increased leading to the need for an in-patient hospice care facility outside the confines of the hospital setting.

"Cottage in the Meadow represents the next part of the journey of providing quality hospice services to residents of Kittitas and Yakima counties," said Gail Weaver, Vice President for Memorial Hospital. "The community asked that a hospice home be available at the end of life. Memorial is proud to be a part of making this vision a reality."

Cottage in the Meadow was designed with the entire family in mind—a place of comfort—like home.

Phase one of construction includes 12 spacious patient suites that open to semi-private patios, common areas such as a kitchen, laundry facilities, family rooms and a chapel/spiritual room.

The Memorial Foundation faced the Herculean task of raising $5.3 million to build the facility. A fundraising campaign commenced in 2008 just as the recession began.

"We had faith our community would respond to the call and in a word it's been phenomenal. Nearly 6,500 donors - large and small - contributed to this grassroots fundraising campaign, remarked Anne Caffery, President and CEO of The Memorial Foundation.

The Foundation had help from community leaders and a volunteer steering committee led by local Yakima physician Tim Melhorn, MD.

"It has been one of the greatest honors in my career to be a part of something that will have such a positive impact on how we help patients and their families with end of life issues," said Dr. Melhorn. "We toured other hospice facilities around the state and Cottage in the Meadow is a result of the collective wisdom we gained through careful observation and attentive listening."

Careful attention was paid to details -- small and large. Each patient suite is equipped with oxygen access, a private bathroom, a sleeping sofa, and room for friends, family and visitors to gather. Beds can be rolled out onto the patio so patients can hear the soothing sounds from the terraced water feature.

There is a spa room designed to assist patients with their bathing and therapeutic needs. An on-site laundry room will allow family members to wash personal clothing at their convenience and at no charge.

Although patients will be served meals, a family kitchen will be open 24 hours a day. Families of patients can bring in food to eat and serve.

A family room & library/reading room provides a quiet place where families can relax. And a children's play room provides activities designed to keep young ones busy and entertained while their families are at the Cottage.

Other partners who have contributed to the building of Cottage in the Meadow include Kittitas Valley Home Health & Hospice, Lower Valley Hospice and Palliative Care, and Yakima Regional Home Health and Hospice.

Memorial will provide staffing for Cottage in the Meadow. Phase two of construction includes eight more patient rooms but will not commence until funds become available.

Cottage in the Meadow is located at 1208 South 48th Avenue, south of Nob Hill Boulevard across from Randall Park in Yakima.

New Physicians Join Three Memorial Physician Practices

Memorial Physicians, PLLC, is pleased to welcome three new physicians to Yakima. Vu Le, MD joins Yakima Gastroenterology Associates. He completed his internal medicine residency and his gastroenterology fellowship at the University of Oklahoma Health Sciences Center in Oklahoma City.

Eugene Enriquez, MD, joins Memorial Hospital Physicians. He completed his residency in internal medicine at St. Barnabas Hospital in New York. He is employed as a hospitalist at Yakima Valley Memorial Hospital.

Jeffrey Ventre, MD, DC joins Lakeview Spine as a Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation specialist. Dr. Ventre completed his Physical Medicine & Rehabilitation residency at Louisiana State University in New Orleans.

Perry Technical Institute is expanding its Medical Technology Department by adding the Medical Assistant Program.

The new program, scheduled to begin in January 2013, will prepare students for careers as medical assistants in doctor's offices, clinics and other health-care facilities.

According to statistics from the United States Department of Labor (DOL), employment of medical assistants is expected to grow by 31% through the year 2020. DOL attributes the increasing demand to the growth of the aging baby boom population spurring the demand for preventive medical services. As practices expand, they will hire more medical assistants to perform routine administrative and clinical duties, allowing physicians to see more patients.

Perry's 18-month program teaches both the office skills and the clinical and patient care skills needed to work as a medical assistant in a variety of settings. The curriculum covers computer applications, medical terminology, anatomy and physiology, pharmacology, clinical procedures and electronic health records.

"Recent legislation requiring medical offices and facilities to staff certified medical assistants, combined with the encouragement that we have received from our medical advisory committee, make this program a 'win-win' for PTI graduates and our community," said Nathan Hull, Perry's dean of education.

The new program has been approved by the Washington State Workforce Training and Education Coordinating Board and accredited by the Accrediting Commission of Career Schools and Established in 1939, Perry Technical Institute is a private, nonprofit educational institution which offers 11 specialized technical training programs. The school is located across the street from the Yakima Air Terminal.
