Spring cleaning can help Yakima Valley Partners Habitat for Humanity build homes in Yakima Valley

YAKIMA, Washington (February 22, 2018) – This spring cleaning season, residents in the Yakima Valley can give their gently used goods a second life and help reduce waste in landfills by donating excess household items to Yakima Valley Partners Habitat Store. Whether it's to make room for a new chair or a brand new kitchen, Habitat Store accepts items ranging from appliances and building products to furniture, home goods and household fixtures such as lighting and cabinets.

Items can be donated at 21 West Mead, Suite 104, or Habitat Store will pick up donations from homes or businesses, making donating items quick and easy. Donations allow Habitat Store to resell high-quality items at a lower price, providing families in the community with an affordable option to furnish their homes. Proceeds are used to build, rehabilitate and repair more homes locally and globally and to help work toward Habitat for Humanity's vision of creating a world where everyone has a decent place to live.

"Every item donated and sold at Habitat Store plays a vital role in improving lives of families in need of better housing," said Lisa Munoz, Store Manager of Yakima Valley Partners Habitat Store. "This year alone, we have helped over 26 individuals within our community, and with the support of loyal donors and shoppers, we will continue to generate additional proceeds to further our mission.

Yakima Valley Partners Habitat Store relies heavily on the generosity of donors in the community. For information on how to arrange a pickup, call the Yakima Valley Partners Habitat Store at (509) 576-8077.
